About me

I am a diligent and inquisitive individual, with a passion for programming and a drive to uncover optimal solutions in complex situations. Over the past five years, I have gained experience working in various areas of computer hardware and software. I previously owned and operated a computer store where I expertly assembled and sold computers. I have also worked as an ISP service provider and spent several years as a web designer. However, I subsequently changed my career path, undertaking studies and practical work as a social worker focused on helping children, individuals with mental health disorders, and other target groups. After 15 years, I have decided to re-enter the technology industry and update my knowledge. I am eager to secure a challenging internship that can help me build the skills I need to thrive in large-scale companies.
